

Dear Donors,

I would like to extend my greatest gratitude to the donors of the David and Beverly Worthington Scholarship Award not merely for the financial assistance offered, but also for helping make my continued education a possibility. Without your generosity, my college plans would have been overwhelmed with stressful loans that no student wishes to deal with; however, your donations allowed me to reconsider my dream school, the George Washington University located in D.C. Being one of the most expensive private schools in the nation, George Washington offers an incomparable education with endless opportunities. I will be majoring in International Relations with a minor in Psychology. During my years at this school I plan on studying Arabic and Spanish abroad in India and South America, while taking classes that will prepare me for a career as an international humanitarian. After my four years, I will join the Peace Corps and hope to eventually start my own NGO that focuses on protecting and rehabilitating children in conflict zones. None of this could have been possible without you, and I cannot thank you enough. I would love to keep you posted on my progress if you would be interested. My email is calebtorres@gwu.edu. Thank you again for investing in my future, and having faith in me.

Sincerely, Caleb Torres

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Caleb Torres". The signature is written in a cursive style with a long horizontal line extending from the end of the name.