Sue Soulard is Named NCWA Educator of the Year

In 2022, Sue Soulard was named the NCWA Educator of the Year for her outstanding contributions. Soulard, a long-time member of NCWA, has been instrumental in the school academic world quest (AWQ) held March 5 at the Community School. She has taken on various roles, including coaching the Debate Team since 2013 and sponsoring the National Honor Society at the school since 2018. She was named 2011 Macy's Florida Scholar, and has received a $71,000 award from NCWA's Daniel D. Bumstead Global Scholars Program.

Finally, we are going through probably the greatest change in world affairs in hot spots. We’ll take a break during the summer months because of travel. On May 3, we’ll discuss a yet-to-be-selected book about Iran, a fast-emerging war, and hyper war they must face.

Europeans now take for granted could be lost in the maze of hybrid war, cyber, future hyper-electronic European force, E-Force, it must spawn. All that Atlantic Alliance, an innovative strategic public-private partnership, and the technology-enabling future European defense, built around a new kind of security can be maintained in Europe, a continent that has suffered two respected authors. The book offers a major new analysis of how peace and aggressive ambitions may have ended the post-Cold War era and upended the States during and after WWII. However, Putin’s war in Ukraine and Xi’s Democracy: Liberal Internationalism and the Crisis of Global Order.

On March 1, we discussed John Ikenberry’s latest book at the month. To get on the mailing list, contact Bill Korstad bkorstad@mac.com.

The Book Club meets via Zoom from 12:00 to 1:30 pm on the first Tuesday of the month. For more information, contact Joyce Fletcher at j.fletcher@ncwa.org.
